

You're invited to the National Archives' Educators' Open House

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

5:30-7:30 P.M.

Special after-hours viewing of exhibits, including the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights
Introduction to classroom resources and primary sources
Samples of online learning opportunities
Discussion of field trip options
Invitation to professional development opportunities
Ideas and support for National History Day
Conversations with Archives educators
Light refreshments

Doors open at 5:30 p.m.; last entrance is at 7:15 p.m.

Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Bill of Rights on view

Other exhibition areas open throughout the evening.

Questions? Contact education@nara.gov